The amendment filed 3/31/09 is acknowledged. Claims 1-9 remain pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1, lines 5-6, recites “a steam suction device that extends horizontally above the barrel shape pot such that the steam suction device extends in a horizontal direction perpendicular to a vertical center axis line of said barrel shape pot, and transects said barrel shape pot in the lateral direction...” (examiner’s emphasis).

This remains indefinite firstly because the strictly functional language of “steam suction device” lacks geometrical attributes which could identify a directionality. Hence there is lacking any structure to endow meaning to the limitation “extends in a horizontal direction.” Likewise, the limitation requiring that the “steam suction device... [transect the] barrel shape pot” presupposes not only the same structurally defined directionality, and a planar shape as well, because to “transect” is to “divide by cutting transversely” (Webster’s II, 1984).

Secondly, since the “steam suction device... extends horizontally above the barrel shape pot” it evidently cannot also satisfy the subsequent limitation, that it also “transects said barrel shape pot,” which requires that the suction device pass through the pot.

Claim 3, lines 2-3, recite “ejectors that... penetrate the... pot in the lateral direction,” since this remains functional language without directional significance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by JP05-96941.

Referring to Fig. 1A and the abstract, JP’941 discloses a steam generating device comprising a barrel shaped pot (chamber identified with floor 121, which is “flattened in a lateral direction,” and as “barrel” shaped as the claimed invention), a heater 16 “arranged in a bottom part” of the pot (in its floor part), and a steam suction device 23, 24 “above the... pot” (and as justifiably said to be transecting the pot as the claimed invention).

Allowable Subject Matter

Art Unit: 3742

Claims 2-9 would appear to be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 3/31/09 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive insofar as they refer to the 112, 2nd paragraph rejection, and moot with respect to the new grounds of rejection. The claims remain indefinite, as discussed above.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
